at Work in Martin's Ferry-They Assert Their Financial Ability to Bulld the Railroad.

The Wheeling & Lake Eric Railway is tion to come to Wheeling, When it built thirty-five miles of track from Bow-Station, it was supposed that it would come directly to Martin's Ferry and by the Union bridge to Wheeling. But something seemed to turn General Woodford's eyes toward Steubenville-possibly in the direction of Pittsburghdinary negotiations toward the accuring an entrance into Steubenville. Wheeling seemed to be forgotten, for the time, although Mr. Woodford said that he had never given up the notion of legitimatizing the road's name by making Wheeling one of its terminal Sented a most forforn aspect.

During this period of inactivity, Bellaire and Steubenville were not asicep. Steubenville presented its plausible side quite forcibly, and held out numerous inducements in the lipe of free right of way in the city, a free depot site, and a subscription. Bellaire tried to induce the company to cut across from Adena to St. Clairsville and from there to Jellaire. All these things were considered by the company, and circumstances seem to indicate that the road will be built to Steubenville. Steubenville.

Steubenville.

But General Woodford and his associates have not forgotten Wheeling, and they now have representatives in Martins Ferry arranging for the coming of the road. Major Anderson and B. R. interview last hight, one of these gentlemen said they had come to town to see what encouragement the people will give the road. He said that the company has spent $300,000 bpilding a little more than thirty miles of road from Bowerston to the Jefferson county coal field, and it has the money to build the road on to Martin's Ferry and the Union bridge terminals, if rights of way can be secured through the town, for its tracks to the manufacturing industries at decent prices. They can pay cash for it all in thirty days, and will do so if the people over there show the proper spirit.

Messes, Anderson and Cook called an a number of prominent Martin's Ferry men yesterday, to sak their co-operation in the matter, and were very cordially received on all hands. They feel very much encouraged, and think the people will do what is right by them if they can be made to see their own interests.

Frank Fonner, the Alleged Bigamist, wil On Tuesday Mrs. Frank Fonner, Amity, Pa., appeared before Justice Davis and complained that her husband had deserted her sometime since and had taken their three children with him :

had taken their three children with him; that, later, he had married a woman named Annie Green, and that they were living together in South Wheeling.

A warrant was issued against Fonner charging him with bigamy, and late Tuesday night he was arrested. Yesterday afternoon he was brought before the Justice for a preliminary hearing. His wife's story is to the effect that he has not supported her for a long time, and her appharance bears out the attement that she earns her own living by hard work. She also says that he has left her several times before, and that the last time he took the children with him.

Is the laboring man willing to give uphis rest-day knowing, as he does by practical experience, that more and better work can be done in six days than in seven?

work can be done in six days than in seven?

Is not a rest-day necessary for the premotion of morality and virtue in the individual and in the family?

And lastly, does not every workingman need one day in seven to spend in the midst of his family as a social being?

These are suggestive questions full of meaning to all such as desire to preserve in its integrity this "Pearl of Days" fraught with momentous bleesings to all indiscriminately. As citizens, individuals, heads of families and as patriots, you are interested in the preservation intact of this beneficent institution of the American Sabbath that it may be handed down to posterity unimpaired, and in all its prestine purity and worth. Therefore we ask our fellow citizens to embrace this opportunity of hearing a gentleman who is thoroughly conversant with every aspect of this question and who will produce such arguments in its favor as will carry with them irresistible convictions as to their truth.

GRAND LODGE OFFICERS

Masonic Grand Lodge. LAST NIGHT'S BUSY SESSION.

Charleston-The Grand Master's Appointments-The Shriners Have a Hilarious Time.

The twenty-fifth annual communica tion of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge A. F. and A. Masons, of this State, was continued last night at the G. A. R. hall in this city. There were present the same Grand Lodge officers s on the previous evening, the representatives of the several subordinate lodges and a number of Past Masters lodges and a number of rat Masters and visiting brethren. The Lodge was opened at 7:30 o'clock by Grand Master Frank Rex, after prayer by Grand Chaplain Dr. H. R. Blaisdell.

The first business of the evening was the election of Grand officers for the ensuing year, with the following results:

Grand Master—Frank Burt, of Mannington.

Grand Master—John M. Ham-liton, of Grantsville, Calhoun county. Senior Grand Warden—Louis N. Tavener, of Parkersburg. Junior Grand Warden—George Davis, of Charleston.

Junior Grand Warden—George Davis, of Charleston, Grand Treasurer—Hugh Sterling, of Wheeling.
Grand Secretary—George W. Atkinson, P. G. M.
These several officers were installed in accordance with Masonic usage, after which Grand Master Burt announced the following list of appointments for the war:

the year: Grand Lecturer-J. M. Belleville, o Grand Chaplain—H. R. Blaisdell, D., of Wheeling.

D., of Wheeling.
Grand Marshal—George W. Feidt, of Grand Tyler—T. W. Bliss, of Wheeling.

After these appointees had been duly installed, the reports of the several committees were presented and considered. It was 11 o'clock before the matters contained in these reports were disposed of. The next hour was consumed by a warm debate over a motion to make charteston the permannt headquarters. warm debate over a motion to make Charleston the permanant headquarters of the Grand Lodge. This motion was finally defeated. The next question was whether the next annual communication should be held at Wheeling or Charleston, The latter place was decided upon, the friends of Wheeling having grown weary and departed or absented themselves for some other reasons.

The Nobles of the Mystic Shrine made a pligrimage across the burning sands of the desert last evening, the special purpose of which was to safely egoort seven novices to the Shrine. Judging from the peculiar sounds which emanated from the Masonic headquarters and caused the Italian peanut and fruit vender at the Exchange flank corner to raise his hands in mute supplication to the Saints for protection, the pligrimage must have been one of some moment. These noises consisted of car-splitting notes from some peculiar horn with a fish horn or two for accompaniment, various weird cries, a signal of "Let her go," a series of bumps and howled laughtles. About thirty of the Nobles banquetted at the Stamm at 11:30 o'clock. The menu was a very appetizing one, and the wearia very appetizing one, and the weari ness of the pilgrimage was goon dis pelled,

At the Æina Mill Results in the Burning o

An accident occurred at the Ætna mill yesterday by which four persons were seriously burned. Considerable soot had accumulated in the Schwindel Smyth gas producing furnace, which smyth gas producing furnace, which was erected last July, and the manager and several men were in the act of blowing it out with steam when the actident occurred. Suddenly a volume of burning natural gas shos out, burning Benson Caldwell, the manager. Thomas Johns, the superintendent, William J. Howells, the engineer, and Timothy Miner, the fireman. Johns and Miner were badly burned about the face, arms and hands and their hair, whiskers and evebrows were singed. Caldwell and Howells were more fortunate, escaping with slight burns en their hands. The clothing of none of the four was ignited. After the explosion their faces and hands were covered with soot and dirt to such an extent that they could scarcely be recognized.

The accident created considerable excitement in the mill, and all sorts of rumors were afloat concerning it. The result might have been much worse. The producer has been cleaned successfully without any secidents a number of times.
